True to ILS' corporate value of maximizing the performance of every launch, DBI was charged with the mission of maximizing the performance of ILS' new office headquarters. Our goals were to maximize space efficiencies and functionality, maximize the design budget with high performance materials, and maximize workplace satisfaction for ILS staff.

For impact as soon as the elevator doors open, the design concept sought to evoke a subtle celestial feel. The sparse palette of simple materials create a hushed drama that carries from one side of the floor to the other, as the reception and main conference area on the left side of the building are visually connected to the lounge on the right side of the building through the two pairs of clear glass doors off the elevator lobby.

Although LEED certification was not pursued, the project incorporated sustainable design practices throughout.
