The design intent of this project was to create an open, light filled space with a neutral, classic color palette. Large glass panels at the perimeter allow light into the open areas. A solid textured carpet with a square pattern was selected, and the square motif was also incorporated into the seating fabrics, the accent panels in the elevator lobby and reception area, the specialty light fixtures, the work room floor, and the unique hardwood floor that helps break up the long elevator lobby.

A break room is situated adjacent to the balcony with an interior glass wall that can be opened up to the elevator lobby for social functions. The conference room next to the reception area also has a full-height glass wall that can open up.
